The Beginning of Fidelity

In the Opening of the Book, there was the Power to Give Eternal Life; but there is also set forth the admonishment to steer us all away from Eternal Death.

But the Opening was made obscure and they had spiritual blindness imposed upon them all: for an adversary struck the power of darkness with the Name, and all nations put out of wits aback of that brute. Like a magic spell it endures, like a rotting sore it grows; the evil powers are not unsure; and must not be ignored.

There came a man, his name is Yahshua, for he was ordained to deliver unto all peoples their spirits. Their spirits are down cast, and the life force diminished, for the knowledge and revelation of the way of truth is pushed aside, out of Sight. He held the scrolls of virtue, of encouragement coupled with admonishment: for by encouragement alone there is a risk that the audience becomes proud and filled with a rebellious spirit, and by admonishment alone there is a risk that the audience becomes sad and grieved beyond measure; but by the Straight Way that he kept in the Eye of his disciples, there is even balance to guide as many as hear under his authority into the Way of Fidelity, so that even an infidel can turn to the Light of Truth.

And I heard voice saying, “Show us the straight way”. Did he not already set the way before your Eyes? But did not the redactors come, and push the words aside, and dull the brightness of His Words? And I heard a Voice, saying, “you have a small miraculous power”. Did not the redactors come and dull the words? Do they love to show you all the way? Do they keep Fidelity? Are they Infidels? With a little strength, a man can lift his fingers, and with a small miraculous power He shall blast the trumpet of Messiah.

And I saw, as it were in Heaven, a large and impressive opened up entrance. By its means of entering, do you write Fidelity? Do you wear yourself out seeking the opening? Few there will be that find it, and many go into the depths of Hell.

And I saw a man standing upon a mountain, and his feet were prepared with the message of Truth: for by His Fidelity he finished the works, he did not delay: for his spirit is bright, and he can see the Way: for it is Set Right Before His Eyes.

He did not come to portion out the Word: for in the portion received of man there is Wrath; He came to completely fill up the Measure of Fidelity: for in the spirit received from on high the trumpet shall Blast: so that through the Opening of His Mouth a Stream of Spirit is Forced into View, and by the Power of His Pen Fidelity appears in His Eyes.

He believed the Word of His father, and walked in the way; he did not bow down to lust and the power of iniquity: for he chose Truth, and Continued in every Virtue, for in the Straight Way is Life and Peace, but outside there are those that love the idle words of iniquity, and engage the powers of darkness: that there will be war and death thereof.

As the Serpent approached Eve, giver of life, so also the whispering Wizard sent his magic spells to Messiah. But Messiah knows all the truth, and sees the entire way: and by the Sword of His Mouth, he defeated His adversary. Many there are outside the way, and the Wizards keep them mesmerized, into a sleep they will slumber, and their spirits will fade, and like a dried up piece of grass, they will die.

But a living dog is better than a dead lion. A brave man is remembered, but in the grave he knows nothing; a sleeping dog can be roused to alertness: for the Infidel can repent, and turn to the Straight Way.

Wars and death are for a sign for those that walk in Fidelity; but Life and Peace shall not endure forever for the Infidels: for the Infidel will perish, and by his deluded spirit fighting and wars will break out. Into his mouth that which is forbidden shall go, and in his hand there will be iniquities he cannot see: for he is struck with blindness, and the opening of the way he does not see.

And I saw, a Measure of Truth, for Messiah points his finger there; the opening is not missing: for the King stands there, in his robes he speaks unto his son, and the way of truth he does reveal. But each prince can choose the way he will walk: into the Straight Way to pursue life, peace, and humility; or he can turn his ears away from his Father, and love pride, the spoils of war, and the gain of death. But, whosoever Will, he will Take the Level of Excellence of Life, so Rivers of Virtues are on his scrolls, and every Iniquity he will cast away: the lie will be burnt, and the idols will perish.

The Straight Way

The Warning to the Transgressors

Despise not the Word of the Holy One, break not up¹ His Straight Way:
For in the Iniquity you keep you will be bound; and in the delusion you will perish.
Do not attribute lies to the Most High, nor speak idle words in His Name²:
for your wisdom will turn to delusion, and your Eyes will become dim, so in your foolishness you will perish, and in darkness you will rest forever.

The Tidings to the Believers

Let your Words be united, and your precept be packed into full measure³:
And your Light will Shine, and your Spirit will be lifted up;
By your Fidelity virtue will arise, and by your holiness Iniquities vanish.

Admonishment for the Shirk

And I saw the shirk sitting. He keeps no paper, and his ink pen dries out:
For he says in his heart: I am not guilty, I did not break up the way.
Know ye not the Straight Way is under a blanket, some virtue unknown?
The iniquities are driven into the brain, and the idols stand over you.
Do you see the disposition fallen? Do you know its height?
Can you perceive the hatred in the land, and the wars from sea to sea?
Stretch out⁴ the Measuring Line to its Full Extent; do not accept the shortened foot:
For by incompleteness iniquities slide in, and virtues fly away.

Walking in the Straight Way

The believers lift their pens, and in silence they work with their hands:
The words of Messiah are before them, the anointing flows into hearts:
For the full measure is taken, and no portion is missing;
The words are clear and fresh, holiness is in their Eyes,
Every utterance is complete, and no wrath abides in their Hearts.
Peace will be upon them, no iniquity will they accept:
For their hearts are purified, by virtue their Eyes are Bright.

The Book

By their testimony the way of truth is set before their Eyes;
The Idols are no more, for falsehood cannot abide therein.

Their Fidelity will grow: their scrolls shall be filled;
Sorrow will fade away: for they shall race towards the goal.

Each man will hold his book: in his language he shall write it;
No page will be missing: in his binder he shall keep it.

The anointing will be upon them: for the way shall be in their hearts;
Unity will be theirs, and Peace will be upon them: for the Mind is One.

Care will be between them, concern will not vanish from them:
For everything shall be set in order, the arrangement shall be complete;
Hatred will flee away, and grudges unknown: for disorder shall be rejected.

The Dwelling

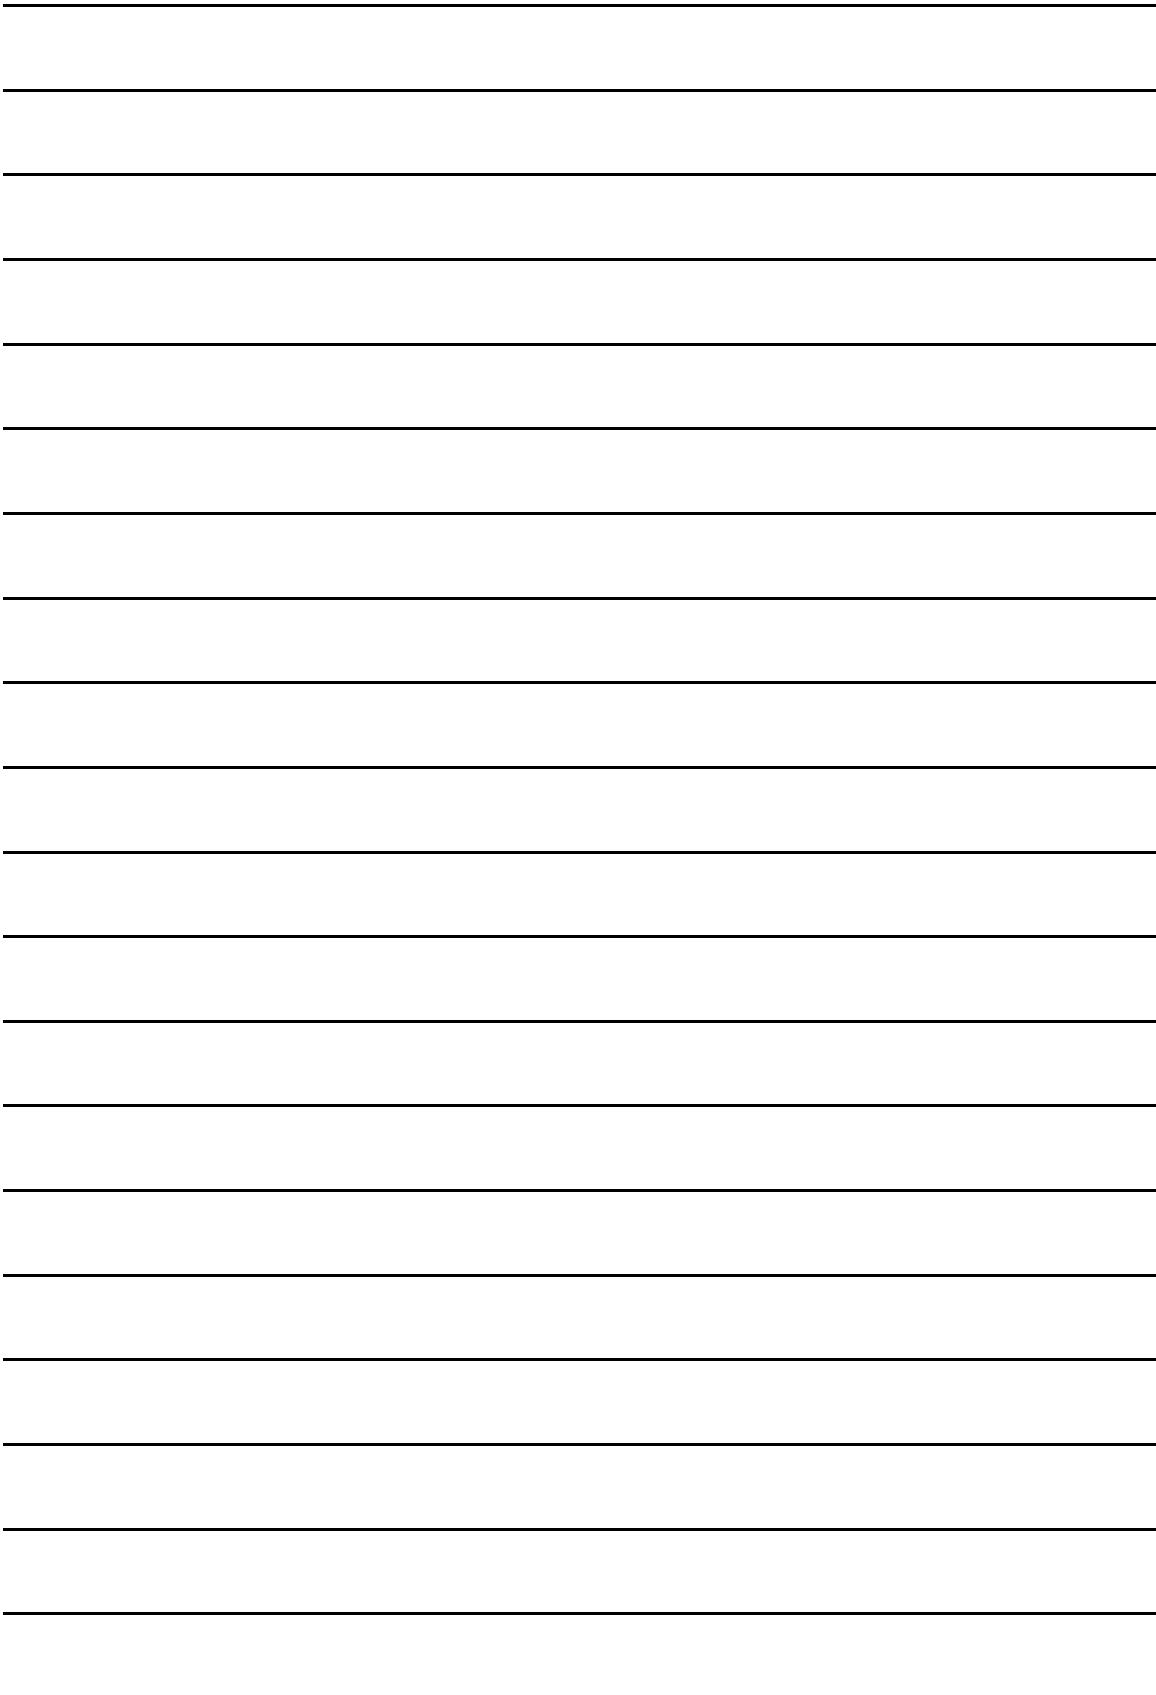

Their mates are satisfied, vanity lets go of them;
They walk together in the way: they turn not aside to idols.

The Marriage

They will stand in a line: for the Trumpets shall Blast Together;
Nothing will be mislaid: for the Idols are abolished, and Every Holy Power is Known.
The Resurrection is seen, the revival is known: for the Straight Way they all shall see.
Messiah will get rid of Death: for He shall restore all Fidelity.

The Little Lamb's Book of Life

Use the ruled pages to write your book in your words, so that you have everything bound in one book; you should not remove pages, nor leave your book behind: lest you forget Fidelity.

The Way of the Real Faith

There is a way to take the law passed down in parts, to set in order the things that are lacking, so that the law will then contain the missing virtue while purging out iniquities.

The way is fully expounded in the book Spiritual Break-through, exclusively available on the web site:
